Brothers of Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity:

In 2022 we made tremendous progress towards growing the Educational Foundation and advancing the goals of Pi Lambda Phi. Through alumni gifts, we were able to improve alumni relations by hosting ongoing alumni activities, building engagement and encouraging networking. The IHQ was also able to hire a Director of Alumni Relations, Kris Reiber, to facilitate support and help our alumni volunteers. We're also doubling down on communications, regularly sharing chapter news, alumni profiles, and event highlights on our website and social media sites.

The Alumni Speaker Series began the fiscal year with a great win. Brother Brandon Taylor arranged a generous sponsorship through his company, Avidus, to connect our successful alumni with our undergraduates. Five Pilam alumni including a US Senator, Olympian, State Representative, Sports Agent, and a Lt. General shared their experiences of overcoming obstacles to find their mission and purpose.

We are planning giving drives with long term growth for more educational programs such as the Leadership Institute. The Leadership Institute is an immersive four-day session where undergraduates learn more about themselves and how to become better leaders. We are committed to enhance these world class programs, funded by alumni support.

Thanks to a generous bequest from the Samuel Press estate, we were able to plan to update our infrastructure to build more aggressive growth in the coming years.

Though we've leaned on virtual contact through the pandemic, we plan to emphasize face-to-face support from our professionals to connect with and guide our undergraduates and chapters. Our strategy involves merging the two for "Not Four Years, but a Lifetime."

Gary Sanders
President, Pi Lambda Phi Educational Foundation

2022 Fundraising Efficiency

Five-year view: Foundation Contributions

Thank you Pilam alumni for another record-breaking year! Your contributions of more than $140,000 to both restricted funds and the general fund exceeded all previous years, except for 2021. In 2022 a generous and unexpected bequest of $237,000 really put us over the top. Read the story of the benefactor on page 6.

SCHOLARSHIPS

$24,300 in Tuition Scholarships Awarded

Thanks to the generous contributions of our donors, the Educational Foundation was pleased to award $24,300 in scholarships to 26 brothers from 18 different chapters. Pilam scholarships recognize hard work, service to community, and dedication to Fraternity. They are instrumental in helping our undergraduate brothers lessen the financial burden of college.

“ Pilam has been an amazing part of my collegiate journey. As my college days are ending, I’ll make sure to spend my final year living in the moment and spending time with my chapter. But my journey is not over. I look forward to being part of a strong alumni base and giving back to others.”

- Christian Myers, University of Cincinnati

“ Thank you so much to the brotherhood that made this possible. I can assure you that these funds will be used quite wisely. Later this month I will be filing my first patent application and this scholarship will go a long way to help.”

- Abrar Rahman, University of California Berkeley

“ In the spring, I was recovering from emergency surgery, and that took a toll on both my studies and emotional health. Soon after I was discharged, I found out I received the scholarship. It was very inspiring, motivating, and uplifting for me.”

- Nicholas Delaney, Christopher Newport University

“ Thank you so much to all the donors and those involved at the Educational Foundation for making these scholarships possible. I hope to someday pay it forward by becoming a donor myself.”

- Adam Notely, University of Virginia

GRANTS

Alumni Speaker Series

In 2022 the Educational Foundation arranged a grant for a new, inspirational speaker series to energize our undergrads with real, living examples of success and Pilam leadership.

Five distinguished alumni were invited to Convention to talk about their Pilam experience, how it influenced their lives, and offer leadership advice. The program was made possible thanks to a charitable donation by the program's sponsor, Avidus, and its CEO, Brandon Taylor '96 (Virginia Commonwealth University).

Reviews from attendees were very positive and the speaker series will be continued. Here are some of the excerpts from the presenters.

Leigh Steinberg (UCLA)

Sports Agent

“At the end of the day, what will be most important is the relationships you had in your life. Were you there for friends when it mattered, when it cost you something to be a good friend?”

This whole concept of fraternity and bonding, sharing experiences, and being there for each other for the good times and the bad is what you'll remember. That, and if you make a difference in the world.”

Keith Dayton (William & Mary)

3-star General

“You're in a fraternity at a time when some fraternities have not done well. And they've caused the Greek system to be under question.

So, it's more incumbent upon you than ever to live your lives with integrity, honesty, and a sense of leadership. A fraternity is only as good as its members.”

Malcolm Kenyatta (Temple)

Pennsylvania State Representative

“Effective leadership is a practice of getting up and showing up day in and day out, even when you don't necessarily 'feel it.' Along the way you'll be reminded of why you do what you do.

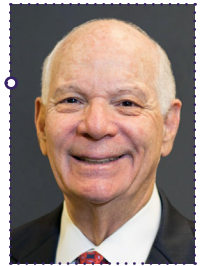

As a public servant, I get encouraged when I meet people who just want to see stuff work in their life. And I think that's true in any field you're in. Those moments of inspiration remind you why you took a particular path in the first place, but they aren't hand-delivered to you. They come like an oasis in a desert. You've got to walk to find them.”

Ben Cardin (Pitt)

Senior U.S. Senator

“I think the leadership experience at Pilam helped me to deal with the challenges I've had in public life. But I think most importantly it was our values.

Pilam, a fraternity where any person of any religion could join, taught me about bringing people together. When I look at what I've done as far as my priorities in life, it's very much formed by my experiences in Pilam.”

Amin Nikfar (Cal Berkeley)

Two-time Olympian

“Joining Pilam really saved me. I think of myself as an intelligent guy, but I was definitely not dialed in... not actually prepared to be there academically.

Pilam was a group of young men who knew how to act and they knew how to study, and they really showed me the way on that. ”

FEATURED SUPPORTER

Foundation receives a gift from an unexpected benefactor

Samuel H. Press who was a pioneer in the direct mail industry in Chicago, passed away in November 2020. He was known as a committed philanthropist who wanted to leave a legacy for charities and organizations that touched his life. Though he had no affiliation with Pi Lambda Phi, he became one of our most generous benefactors.

Pilam family ties

Sam had no children of his own, but was very close with his nephew, Adam Press '90 (University of Florida), who was like a son to him. After graduating, Adam moved to Chicago to work in the family direct mail and printing business.

Adam enjoyed sharing his Florida Delta experiences with his uncle saying, "we went to lunch together almost every day and he loved hearing my Pilam stories. We'd talk about everything from the mundane to the ridiculous. He didn't get to experience fraternity life, and he always seemed to get a kick out of it."

Florida Delta chapter circa 1989.

Sam really relished their discussions and lived vicariously through Adam's stories. He would even ask to hear stories a second time, like they were jokes with a great punch line.

Adam is now the CEO of the company that his uncle started, SHP Services, Inc., named in honor of Samuel H. Press, and continues the Press family legacy.

A bequest to Pi Lambda Phi

When Sam passed away in November 2020, he willed a significant portion of his estate to charities that had meaning to him.

Samuel Press was made an honorary brother of the Florida Delta chapter.

As the executor of his uncle's will, Adam was given discretion with the remainder of the estate to support causes of his choosing. He selected some educational and animal welfare charities — causes that he believed honored his uncle's memory.

Adam also chose the Pi Lambda Phi Educational Foundation. He remembered the discussions he had with his uncle about Pilam and the joy that it brought to him. The Foundation received a very generous bequest of $237,000.

There was one condition though... Adam lost his brother's pin and asked for a replacement.

Samuel H. Press was made an honorary brother in the Florida Delta chapter in 2022. Brother Mine Forever.

A huge round of snaps for Brothers Adam and Samuel Press! Your contribution will go a long way to helping ensure that future generations of Pi Lambda Phi brothers enjoy the experiences and ideals of our Fraternity.
